

Creating and managing repositories

You can create a repository on GitHub Enterprise Server to store and collaborate on your project's files, then manage the repository's name and location.

About repositories

Best practices for repositories

Repository limits

Creating a new repository

Creating a repository from a template

Creating a template repository

Creating an issues-only repository

Duplicating a repository

Cloning a repository

Troubleshooting cloning errors

Renaming a repository

Transferring a repository

Deleting a repository

Restoring a deleted repository

Legal