

Managing access to your personal repositories

You can give people collaborator access to repositories owned by your personal account.

Inviting collaborators to a personal repository

You can add users as collaborators to your personal repository.

Removing a collaborator from a personal repository

When you remove a collaborator from your project, they lose read/write access to your repository. If the repository is private and the person has created a fork, then that fork is also deleted.

Removing yourself from a collaborator's repository

If you no longer want to be a collaborator on someone else's repository, you can remove yourself.
