Popular

Sponsoring an open source contributor through GitHub

You can make payments through GitHub to a developer or organization who designs, creates, or maintains open source projects you depend on.

About GitHub Sponsors

GitHub Sponsors allows the developer community to financially support the people and organizations who design, build, and maintain the open source projects they depend on, directly on GitHub Enterprise Cloud.

Tax information for GitHub Sponsors

Sponsored developers and organizations must submit tax information to GitHub and are responsible for evaluating and paying their own taxes.

Sponsoring open source contributors

You can sponsor contributors, receive updates on developers and organizations you sponsor, and display a sponsor badge throughout GitHub Enterprise Cloud.
