About releases of GitHub Enterprise Server

Currently supported releases

Deprecated releases

GitHub releases new versions of GitHub Enterprise Server regularly. You can review supported versions, see deprecation dates, and browse documentation for the release you've deployed.

About releases of GitHub Enterprise Server

GitHub Enterprise Server is constantly improving, with new functionality and bug fixes introduced through feature and patch releases. GitHub supports the four most recent feature releases. For more information, see "About upgrades to new releases."

You can see what's new for each release in the release notes, and you can view administrator and user documentation for all releases here on GitHub Docs. When you read the documentation, make sure to select the version that reflects your product. For more information, see "About versions of GitHub Docs."
